

Radio Drive Surges Into Its Prime With The Release Of Before The Day Is Through – Available Now!

The insatiably creative mind of Kevin Gullickson & his genuine gift for writing extraordinarily endearing and insightfully entertaining music, has kept playlists all over the globe stocked with sensational tunes throughout the years of his career playing in Radio Drive. Still riding high on the momentum established with his records She Colors My World (2018), In The Light (2019), and his 2020 Vision EP from last year – Radio Drive is surging right into the prime of its existence for the official release of its seventh full-length record – the brand-new album Before The Day Is Through is now online & available on every major music platform, worldwide.

Over the course of thirteen incredible new tracks, including nine stunning originals, three remarkable reprises, and a spectacular cover of Led Zeppelin's legendary song "Thank You" – Radio Drive's latest record reveals the most ambitious, exciting, and all-out complete lineup of songs in its legacy to-date.

Involved in every aspect of Before The Day Is Through from the concept to the recording, Kevin played the vast majority of the instrumentation on the album personally, while reaching out across the internet remotely for talented session musicians and respected industry professionals to assist in adding the finer details to his sparkling set of songs. From Italy, to Venezuela, to Russia, and right at home in the USA, Before The Day Is Through became an international effort and a monumental achievement for the music of Radio Drive, spanning across borders to bring the new material to life like you've never heard before.

Proudly released and supported by the brand-new label 12 Story Records, and featuring the legendary skills of Grammy/Academy Award-winning engineer/producer Brendan Dekora lending his expertise to the mixing & mastering – no quarter has been spared in making Before The Day Is Through the very best album the world has heard from Radio Drive, & an authentically sensory experience to be remembered.

No stranger to success, Kevin's music has reached the hearts & minds of millions around the globe over the airwaves and television networks – join him in celebration of a fantastic new milestone in his career with the release of a groundbreaking record designed to be shared, enjoyed, and turned UP by one & all.
